Ukrainian food has become an integral part in ensuring global food security. Such integration into the global market became possible due to receiving leadership positions in the world markets of grain and oil. During the last decade Ukraine continues to increase exports of finished food in several different positions. Among them fruits and vegetables, alcoholic and soft drinks, confectionery, meat and dairy products are particularly popular. Ukraine confidently holds primacy in the global market of honey, nuts and flour.

But Ukraine is rich not only in these positions. Unfortunately, not all potential buyers are aware of the agricultural sector possibilities. Ukrainian potential in ensuring global population with quality food is one of the largest in the world. In order to show and tell about the unknown possibilities of food products export the first edition of Ukrainian Food catalogue has been created. It will be one of the first stages of the launching of the international promotional campaign to create a positive image of Ukrainian food.

“Ukrainian food 2015” catalogue is the image project of Ukraine in the world, the first English-language collection of information about Ukrainian exporters of food that will be distributed to potential importers through state and private contact channels.

The purpose of the publication and distribution of the catalogue is to inform potential importers about types of Ukrainian food.

We hope that this catalogue will help you find a reliable contractor among Ukrainian enterprises.
