

Discover new markets with the Dutch

Are you ready to partner up with the Netherlands and accelerate the transition to more efficient dairy farming?

The Netherlands is keen to help in modernising the field. Through our successful DUDC project, Dutch companies are partnering up with Ukrainian universities, demo farms, and advisory organisations to provide practical training, animal health management, and data-driven approaches. We understand that the key to success in the dairy industry is investing in modern practices and training staff. While Ukraine has tremendous potential for dairy farming, there is a need of streamline practices. By partnering with Dutch companies, farmers can benefit from our scale, innovation, and cooperation to increase the quality and production of milk products.

How can we support you?

The Netherlands believes in an integrated approach, whereby we connect knowledge, government, business and society and find solutions that fit the many challenges facing our industries. We can provide tailor-made assistance in:

- Animal health and welfare
- Feed and energy efficiency
- High-tech and data farming
- Practical training
- Integrating value chains
